Shortly atter the arrival of the Ossipee, a re-porter boarded the vessel and had an interview with the officer of the deck. The latter said he had strict orders out of her fire-room. successor of Gen. Sickles as Minister to Spain, continues to excite comment concerning the character of the instructions he will receive from the department of State after the confirmation of the nomination by the Senate. Although usage is opposed to an open declaration of the line of diplomacy lo be pursued, it can be stated with truth that one of the subjects to which Mr. Cushing will give his attention will be the policy of political and administrative reforms in Cuba as the best means calculated to restore peace to that island, and promote its prosperity. Among these reforms is ncluded the abolition of slavery in the Antilles. These views have repeatedly been enforced, both in the President's annual messages and the official correspondence of Secretary Fish, and which have been often communicated to the Spanish Cabinet. It will be recollected that several years ago our Government undered its good offices to Spain in the hope of Cuban pacification, but which were respectfully declined on the basis suggested. It is not improbable that a similar tender will again be made by the rew Minister, as the Administration will resort to every proper expedient for the purpose of restoring peace and protecting American interests in Cuba and the adjacent waters, and there can be no doubt that an effort will be made to conclude a new commericial treaty with Spain, the only one ever made

Friday, Com-mander Woodsaw signaled with lights that the Virginius was leaking The Richmond papers give an account of the murder, on Friday night last, of Col. Joseph C. Spalding, in Henrico Courthouse, situated on the corner of Main and 22d streets in that city. The body was discovered Saturday morning in the southeast room of the Courthouse in a sitting posi-tion on a bench, cold and rigid in death. Upon examination it was found that the deceased had come to his death from wounds received on the head at the hands of some un-known person. He had been accustomed to sleeping in this room, his habits of late years having rendered him homeless, but no cause for the brutal murder can be found, as it was not known that he had any enemies, being harmless in his nature, and it could not have been prompted by cupidity, as the deceased but seldom had any money about him.

We called in upon our friend C. F. Reams, the tobacconist, yesterday, and found him just right in the middle of this bad fix. Mrs. R. and all the little R.'s were absent on a visit to relatives in Granville. THE CORONER ACTIVE-PARTICU-LARS OF THE BOB SMITH MURDER. -Our new Coroner, Mr. Paul Lincke, has had rather a busy time during the past several days. After going to Forestville on Christmas eve to hold an inquest over the body of Jack Crenshaw, the colored man who got drunk and froze to death, he was called on Monday to go to the plantation of D. Griffin, Esq., about 12 miles east of this city, to hold an inquest over the body of a colored man by the name of Bob Smith, who was shot down and killed in his own house on Saturday while surrounded by his family. After returning from Mr. Griffin's plantation his services were again required to hold still another inquest over the remains of the colored woman, Nancy Hummey, who was picked up on Monday on the North Carolina Railroad, near the bridge over Walnut Creek. In this case Dr. William Little, of this city, attended as medical expert.

In the Smith murder case, Coroner Lincks examined quite a large num. Lincke examined quite a large num-ber of witnesses and the gist of the evidence went to show that a colored man named Badger Terrell went to Smith's house on Saturday night, and from the doorway shot him dead with a Maynard rifle. The evidence also went to show that the difficulty was a family one, originating in the undue familiarity of Smith with Terrell's wife, and further, that the murder was planned with the connivance of boys this evening (the 24th) has been unusually brilliant and energetic. The event of the evening, however, was the Christmas Tree at the Orphan Asylum, growing as it did in its huge proportions, with appropriate presents for the orphans. The arrangement of the Tree and the appointments of the exercises, in all their details, were in the highest degree worthy of commendation, and a column in the NEWS might be easily filled were I to attempt to give a full description of the proceedings. The Tree abounded in so many articles that considerable time elapsed before the distribution was completed, notwithstanding several gentlemen assisted the teachers in this work. Each article had the name of the orphan for whom it was intended written on it, and the donee went forward as his or her name was called to receive it. The teachers arranged the different presents so as to mete out equal justice to all. The scene at the distribution was one well worthy of a painter. The eager step and joyous countenances of the little children, (more than one hundred in all,) as their names were called, betokened the emotions of happiness which thrilled their bosoms, and was one of the most pleasing spectacles we have ever had the good fortune to witness.

TREE CELEBRATION.—Our Oxford correspondent speaks thusly of the exercises at the Orphan Asylum, on the occasion of the Christmas Tree celebration in the chapel of the Asy-

Joseph Solomon, colored, it is thought, had one or more accomplices in stealing the horse and buggy from Mr. John L. Wright and E. Haith-cock & Son. After a protracted trial of Solomon, before Magistrates Bourbon Smith, white, and Wm. Crews, colored, in which Col. James S. Amis, prosecuted, and W. Hamilton Young, defended, he was required to give bail for two hundred and fifty dollars, and in default of same, has been lodged in jail. The horse and buggy have not been secured, nor is it certain as to their whereabouts, though the impression prevails that they are in the neighborhood of Scot-land Neck, N. C. Mr. Wright offers a reasonable reward for the recovery of his horse. Mr. Herder Lanier, who represents the popular house of R. P. Bagley & is on a visit to Oxford. Mr. Benjamin Skinner Lassiter, who attained so distinguished a position when at Princeton College, is also on a visit here.

Col. John H. Wheeler.-In our yesterday's issue we gave a brief personal notice of the presence of North Carolina's historian, J. H. Wheeler, in our city. Col. Wheeler is visiting our State under a special commission from the Secretary of the Treasury, to inspect the United States mint at Charlotte, and left here yesterday for Charlotte to perform that duty. learn from a friend that Col. Wheeler has made a will, bequeathing to North Carolina, after his death, his valuable historical collection sketches and reminiscences of the Old North State, said to be the most complete and varied in existence. With the papers of the late Governor Swain, which the Legislature should make an effort to obtain, and Col. Wheeler's collections, every fact and incident connected with the history ly two years we have stumbled over part of an old stump immediately in the centre of the sidewalk on the north corner of Fayetteville and Davie streets. We have seen others lose their equilibrum, also their temper, under the most sober circumstances from this said obstacle. Last night as we heard a volume of oaths proceeding from a lone pedestrian as he stumbled, the thought occurred to us that possibly this remnant of an old tree was preserved by our city fathers as a relict of by-gone days. If there is any history connected with this stump will some one bring it out? Was it planted by old 'Rip' himself, or what is about the nuisance that makes it so dear to our street Commissioner? We pause for a reply.

THE STATE DEBT QUESTION .-Since the adjournment of the Legislature, the correspondence at the Treasurer's office with bondholders and other interested parties within and without the State, in regard to the adjustment of the State debt, has been vo'um i lous. We are assured that the proposition of Senator Worth, of Randolph, as contained in his bill, meets with almost universal favor with foreign bondholders. We state this merely as an item of news, as a fact, not that we are for or against any of the bills that are now pending before the General Assembly on this all-important matter.

DIED. - Mrs. Harriet Whitaker, con sort of Jno. R. Whitaker, Esq., and a sister of Mayor Whitaker, died at the residence of her husband, corner Mc-Dowell and Davie streets, on Tues-day night, of congestion. Mrs. Whitaker was a most excellent lady, and her death causes universal sorrow in the neighborhood, where she was re-garded as one of the best and kindest Committee will be appointed to examine and pass upon the affidavits place from the Edenton Street MethRATES OF ADVERTISING.

In cotton receipts alone Charleston shows a gain of 20,000 bales over those of last year. The New York Herald argues from this and other causes a positive revival of trade and commerce in the Southern markets, and says the future prosperity of the South may be safely assured.

A new weekly paper, to be called The Commonwealth of Georgia, will be commenced in Atlanta to-morrow morning. Its motto will be "Principles, not Men," and will be edited by ol. BENJ. F. SAWYER, formerly of Alabama, but late editor of the Rome Courier. It will have a brilliant list of contributors.

The New York Tribune grows facetious over the escape of GENET. It puts in the mouth of the Deputy Sheriff that touching little piece of music beginning:

The Hall of the House of Representives in New Orleans has been used for the purpose of a masquerade ball by the Cyprians of that city, Gov. KELLOGG giving his consent to the same. The ball is represented to have been brilliant. This is an evidence of the depravity of the KEL-Logg government.

The emigrant exodus from England to this country bids fair to be heavy during the coming year. The London Times announces in the most depreciating manner the fact that 10,000 laboring families will next Spring seek a selected field in which to make their fortunes. And what is better, the border States of the South will come in for a very large share of these emigrants.

We do not expect to dissuade cooks from kindling their fires with the dangerous aid of kerosene, though we have probably printed accounts of from 40,000 to 50,000 accidents, more or less fatal, the result of this incautious expedient. It may do no harm, however, to mention that a week or two ago, had a pair of beautiful arms, is now totally wanting in those useful limbs. Amputated, both with kerosene!

An English Verdict.

Some of our local press ought to lecture Mr. JUSTICE BRETT, of England, who has recently permitted a verdict to be returned in a libel suit, which is an exact counterpart of the WOODFIN-CARTER verdict. Either the English Judge was ignorant and corrupt, or the strictures upon the WOODFIN-CARTER verdict by persons in no wise interested therein, are shown to be without just excuse.

· A London correspondent of the New York Herald says:

"Of all men of the day-Mr. W. S. Gilbert—the dramatist, gives greater occasion to prove that authors were rightly denominated the genus irritabile. Somehow or other he is always in hot water, quarrelling with managers, actors, authors and newspaper critics. His last feat has been to bring an action against the Pall Mall Gazette for stigmatizing his piece of the "Wicked World" as "coarse," "gress," "brutal," "offensive," and "simply indecent." There was a great forensic display, the So-licitor General being on one side and Sir John Karslake on the other, and the presiding Jugde, Mr. Justice Brett, delivered an elaborate charge. The jury gave a curious verdict, de-

To Our Subscribers.

As the year 1873 is about closing. we would earnestly request the subscribers of the DAILY and WEEKLY News to at once renew their subscriptions, in order that we may be enabled to commence the new year with lighter hearts and heavier purses, and thereby be the better prepared to make the NEWS the popular journal which it has ever been our desire it the locomotive engineers was not au- should be. Let every one whose time of subscription expires with the first of January, or who may be indebted to us at the present time, remember us on New Year's Day. and we shall endeavor to make the News in 1874 more readable than ever before.

The Railroad Strike.

The troubles and embarrasments of the great railroad magnate, Tom Scott, have been greatly augmented within the past two or three days by the strike of the locomotive engineers and firemen on several of the Western lines operated by the Pennsylvania Central. The employees on the Pan-Handle, the Chicago, Erie & Pittsburg and the Cleveland & Pittsburg railroads, and on one or two others, whose names escape us now, have joined in the movement. Passenger travel over these lines is very much crippled, while freights have been almost abandoned. The grievance upon which the strikers base their action is a reduction of ten per centum in their wages. This state of affairs is particularly unfortunate for Mr. Scorr at this juncture of affairs, for the ancient hostility between the Baltimore & Ohio and the Pennsylvania Central corporations has again lighted up into a fierce blaze, and a long and bitter contest is probable.

If these railroad strikes only affected the interests of the contending parties, outsiders might be inclined to stand off as neutral spectators of the struggle, but as they operate to the prostration of business and the crippling of the industries of the country, the public has just cause of complaint at the frequent occurrence of these embroglios, which so jeopordize their vital interests.

The Old and the New Year-The Condition of the Country.

The your eighteen hundred and seventy-three goes down to-day into the irretrievable past, and will henceforth only be remembered as having been freighted with the usual amount of griefs and sorrows and joys and pleasures to every human being. Who is it that has not some cause of regret for mistakes made during the year just closing, and who is it that will not to-night make new resolves DANIAL BOND, Editor and Proprietor, for the year just dawning upon us? We part with the retiring year with feelings of sincere regret-feeling that we are parting with a friend who may have given us some pain, but whose errors we are willing to bury with the dead, desiring only to remember the bright side of his life.

Nothing of any moment is now transpiring in this country. The holidays taken by Congress and the several Legislatures creates a lull in all public matters, and the leading papers are only discussing measures that are to be considered after a return to work by these bodies. Congress has not many grave matters to discuss, although much time will doubtless be occupied in considering the thousand minor bills which have already been introduced and which will be placed before it when the members return from their constituents. The question of the finances of the country will doubtless receive much attention, though opinion is divided as to the Congressional action that will be taken in this matwoman in Fort Wayne, Ind., who, a ter; some sections clamoring for an expansion while others oppose this measure. It is clear, however, in of them; and all because of kindling | the present depleted condition of the Government Treasury, that something must be done in this quarter, er pleasant.

The Virginius matter is now fast dropping out of public attention, and is indeed becoming a threadbare sub. ject. No complication can now grow out of it, no bloodshed will flow, and the only practical result from the whole matter has been the withdrawal of Minister SICKLES and the appointment of CALEB CUSHING in his place—an event that will not be deplored by the American public. The disastrous results of the late financial panic is gradually wearing away-many of the large manufacturing establishments of the North, that were compelled to suspend work, have resumed operations, and it is to be hoped that every branch of industry will soon be moving in its accustomed channel. The new year will dawn upon this country with no war upon its hands. with peace toward the outside world and comparative peace and quiet within her borders. The animosities of the past are rapidly subsiding, all sections are beginning to feel a more common interest in the National Government; the oppressive action of the general Government towards the Southern States is fast becoming less obnoxious; the miserable thieving element that a few years ago controlled our State governments has become extinct except in some few cases, and as a consequence we find claring that there was no indecency in more honesty in public circles; the Mr. Gilbert's play, and yet that the true element of the South is well represented in the Congressional halls; and in the advent of the new Subscribe for 1874.

dent, but on the other hand may hope to see a year of much prosperity to the whole country, and fewer disasters than during the one just closing.

THE memory of General VERONA. executed with Captain FRY, was done injustice by the telegraph, which stated that he had betrayed his compatriots for the purpose of saving his life. Captain FRY, in his touching and beautiful letter to his wife, says this was a base falsehood. The gallant captain, in that letter, says: "Bembatta (Verona) is the brightest and bravest creature I ever saw." This is testimony sufficient as to the character of the gallant gentleman so brutally and cruelly put to death for love of country. But we have his own words in a letter to Mrs. QUESADA, residing in New York. written shortly before his death. He says: "I am about to die. I could live longer, but I cannot do so with out losing my honor. Proposals (to betray my comrades) have been made to me, but I cannot accept them. I prefer to die rather than to live without honor."

CHIEF JUSTICE WILLIAMS AS A AY GRABBER.-Among the past incidents in the official life of Attorney General Williams, which are not helping his confirmation as Chief Justice, is the fact that when appointed a membor of the Board of Visitors to West Point, during his Senatorial term, he charged and took full mileage from Oregon to West Point and back, amounting to nearly $3,000, although he had the same year charged and taken the same amount as mileage due him as a Senator. This was doubtless legal, but "should a man who will indulge in such sharp practice put on the ermine of Chief Justice?" significantly ask Senators.

Bazaine's Place of Seculsion-The Isie of de Sainte Marguerite-

According to a cable despatch to the Herald, Marshal Bazaine has commenced his term of 20 years' seclusion, in accordance with the terms the punishment fixed by Marshal McMahon. The Isle de Sainte Margerite, where he is to take up his lengthened residence' is on the Medierranean coast of France, opposite Cannes, and about two miles and a half from the Italian frontier, and is one of the group of two isles called Lerins. Ste. Marguerite is of small extent, is covered with wood, and the chinate, as may be inferred from its osition, is of a salubrious character. Sazaine does not exactly go into exile, nor is he to suffer the ignomy of being transported to a penal colony. He will always have in view the coast of France, and close at hand are many towns and villages, where, before his eyes, can be constantly seen the industry and every day life of his fellow countrymen in one of the most attractive portions of France

Ste. Marguerite was once before the prison of an individual whose life was of romantic interest and whose history has been the subject of labored and extended research. The Man in the Iron Mask was confined on the island from 1686 to 1698, when he was removed to the Bastile. The dungeon in which he was incarcerated is still pointed out. Its solid windows are guarded by twelve iron bars. The only approach to it is through the governor's rooms. In the midst of a small garden is a squre building with a door on each face, and evidently constructed with a view to strength and to prevent prisoners confined in it from escaping. It is understood that the condemned Marshal will be accompanied in his seclusion by his wife and children, and that restraint on his movements will extend to his safekeeping. In other respects he will have the privilege of moving about within the confines of the island as much as he pleases.

Marshal Bazaine may not consider the place of his seclusion the most agreeable. The old buildings cannot be suggestive of the most cheering emotions. He is, however, close to Italy and he has the Mediterranean expanse to the north, south and east. If desirous to escape there cannot fail to be many favorable opportunities, but after all the Marshal may expect that at the expiration of a few he may be permitted by the government to leave Ste. Marguerite a free man. A fortune that did not befall the Mysterious Man in the Iron

The first county court which ever convened in Kentuck, met under an old elm tree in Harredsourg, in 1778. A correspondent of the Danville Advocate writes of the tree: "This historic old monarch of the forest stood 'a thing of beauty' until a few years since, when its green boughs suddenly began to droop and turn 'sere and vellow.' The trunk was found to contain many scars, and pieces of spears, flints and bullets were imbedded in it."

It is reported that Grant intends making important Cabinet changes soon. It is said that General Schenck, Minister to England, will be made Secretary of the Treasury by the transfer of Judge Richardson to the Department of the Interior, and that Secretary Delano will be nominated to succeed General Schenck at the Court of St. James.

POSTPONEMENT -- FOURTH GIFT CONCERT OF PUBLIC LIBRARY OF KENTUCKY .- A CARD TO THE PUB-Ltc.—The Trustees of the Public Library of Kentucky and the management of the Gift Concert announce the postponement of the Fourth Gift Concert until Tuesday, the 31st of March next. The public will readily understand the causes which have made this postponement necessary. The financial panic which has for the last two months paralyzed the business of every section of this country and Europe, has prevented thousands from investing in tickets. The epidemics pervading almost the entire South have cut off a large and available market. And, too, the public judging from the effect of these causes have expected a postponement and have declined to invest without a more positive assurance of the drawing taking place on a fixed day.

All interested desire a full drawing. but for the reasons just stated this could not be had on the 3d of December, but the short postponement now announced will secure it. The management have met with unprecedented success. The sales of tickets, the proceeds of which have already been received, amount to over a million dollars, with a number of agencies in this country yet to hear from, and all those in Europe.

Thus a drawing (scaling the gifts one-half) could be had now, but the management deem it best to have a postponement and a full drawing.

This postponement assures the sale of all the tickets and a full drawing. That this determination will meet with the approbation of nearly every one interested is made apparent by the very numerous letters received from every section of this country and the Canadas asking for a postponement, This action of the management will work no detriment to any but will be for the good of all. By it the fortunate ticket-holders will receive their gifts in full while it will not affect those who do not draw gifts.

In making this announcement the management emphatically state that there shall be no jurther postponement and to this end all agents will be imperatively required to close up and transmit their accounts to this office by the 21st of March.
